

Admissions

Apply to Western Illinois University

At Western, your dreams become passion-driven plans and tangible goals. You are welcome here in a community that embraces your social, economic, and educational background.

Tailored WIU application pathways reflect your experiences and empower you to succeed. Follow the instructions below to start your application to Western Illinois University's Macomb, Quad Cities, or online programs.

Apply as a Freshman

Apply as a Transfer

Apply as an International Student

Apply as a Graduate Student

Other Applications

12:1
Student-to-Faculty
Ratio

$19K
Average Financial Aid
Award

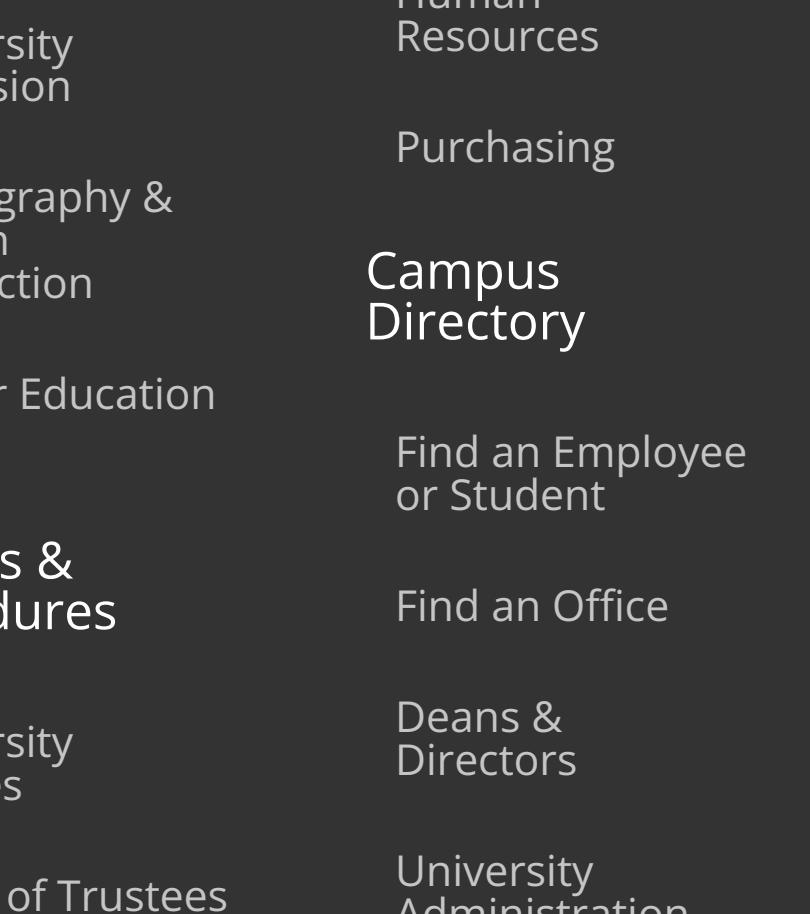

Top
Public University in the Midwest

How to Apply - A Streamlined Process

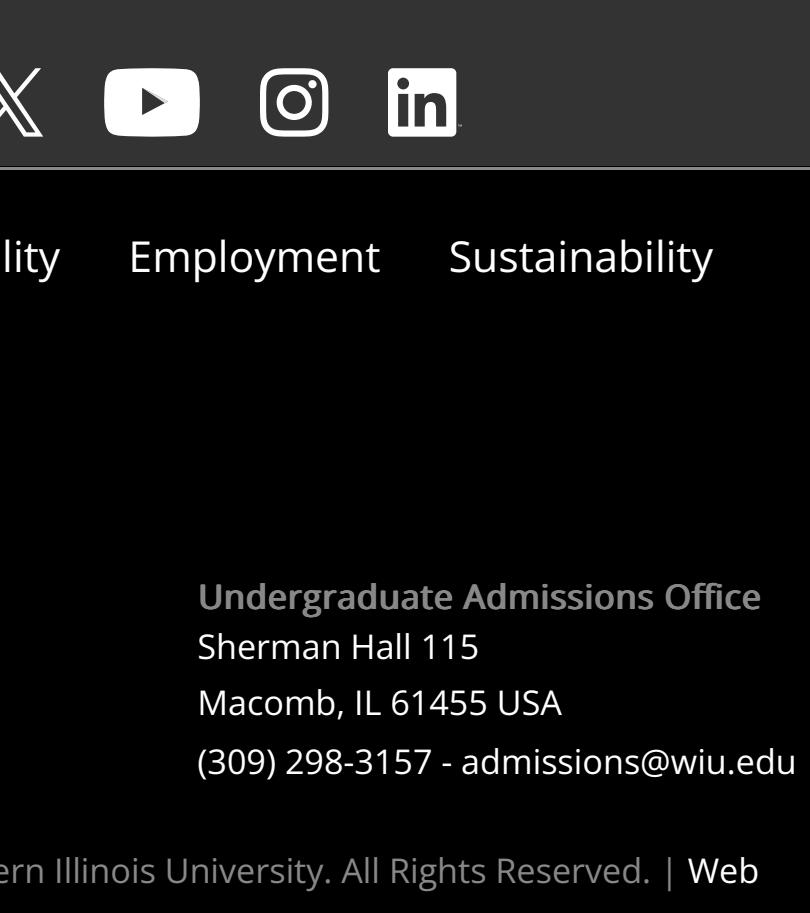

- Start your application through our online portals according to your student type. If you're applying as a freshman, you can also use the Common App.
- Submit admission materials such as transcripts, English language scores (if applicable), GED (if applicable), and standardized test scores (optional).
- Receive an admission decision in two to three weeks.
- Accept your admission offer and secure your spot at Western Illinois University!

Returning WIU student

For students who previously attended WIU in a traditional major/program.

High School Dual Enrollment

For high school students taking WIU courses alongside high school classes.

Bachelor of General Studies

For students seeking a flexible, non-majored Bachelor of Arts degree. To be eligible, you must have graduated high school at least five years ago or have earned a minimum of 24 hours of college transfer credit.

Visiting/Guest Student

For current students at another institution taking one semester of WIU classes.

Non-Degree Student

For students who want to enroll in classes without pursuing a degree from WIU.

Admission Deadlines

We accept undergraduate applications on a rolling basis throughout the year, meaning you can apply to Western Illinois University when you're ready.

Below are the recommended deadlines based on which semester you plan to start classes.

Applicant Type	Fall Deadline	Spring Deadline
Freshman	August 1	November 1
Transfer	August 1	December 1
International	April 1	October 1
Graduate	Program Specific	Program Specific

Returning WIU student

For students who previously attended WIU in a traditional major/program.

High School Dual Enrollment

For high school students taking WIU courses alongside high school classes.

Bachelor of General Studies

For students seeking a flexible, non-majored Bachelor of Arts degree. To be eligible, you must have graduated high school at least five years ago or have earned a minimum of 24 hours of college transfer credit.

Visiting/Guest Student

For current students at another institution taking one semester of WIU classes.

Non-Degree Student

For students who want to enroll in classes without pursuing a degree from WIU.

Admission Deadlines

We accept undergraduate applications on a rolling basis throughout the year, meaning you can apply to Western Illinois University when you're ready.

Below are the recommended deadlines based on which semester you plan to start classes.

Applicant Type	Fall Deadline	Spring Deadline
Freshman	August 1	November 1
Transfer	August 1	December 1
International	April 1	October 1
Graduate	Program Specific	Program Specific

Returning WIU student

For students who previously attended WIU in a traditional major/program.

High School Dual Enrollment

For high school students taking WIU courses alongside high school classes.

Bachelor of General Studies

For students seeking a flexible, non-majored Bachelor of Arts degree. To be eligible, you must have graduated high school at least five years ago or have earned a minimum of 24 hours of college transfer credit.

Visiting/Guest Student

For current students at another institution taking one semester of WIU classes.

Non-Degree Student

For students who want to enroll in classes without pursuing a degree from WIU.

Admission Deadlines

We accept undergraduate applications on a rolling basis throughout the year, meaning you can apply to Western Illinois University when you're ready.

Below are the recommended deadlines based on which semester you plan to start classes.

Applicant Type	Fall Deadline	Spring Deadline
Freshman	August 1	November 1
Transfer	August 1	December 1
International	April 1	October 1
Graduate	Program Specific	Program Specific

Returning WIU student

For students who previously attended WIU in a traditional major/program.

High School Dual Enrollment

For high school students taking WIU courses alongside high school classes.

Bachelor of General Studies

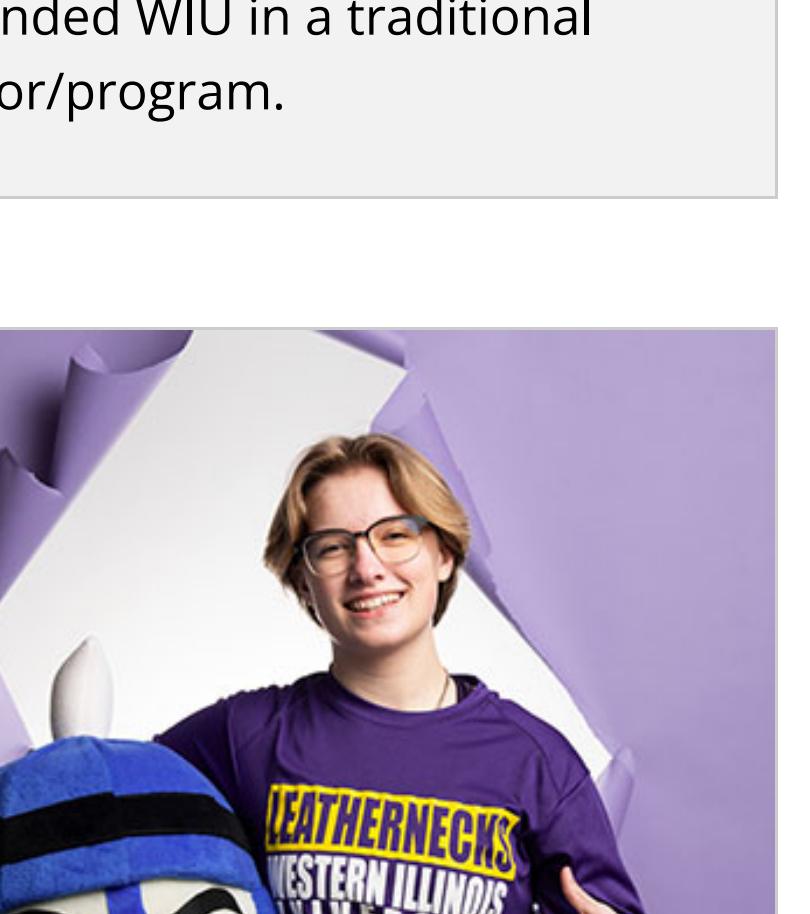

For students seeking a flexible, non-majored Bachelor of Arts degree. To be eligible, you must have graduated high school at least five years ago or have earned a minimum of 24 hours of college transfer credit.

Visiting/Guest Student

For current students at another institution taking one semester of WIU classes.

Non-Degree Student

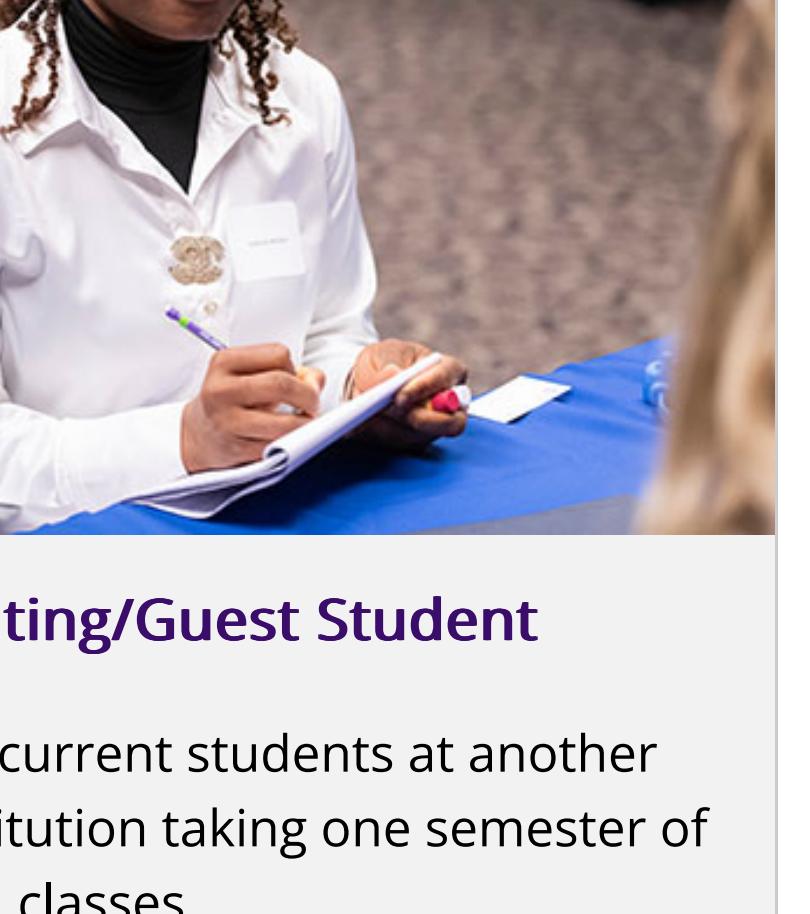

For students who want to enroll in classes without pursuing a degree from WIU.

Admission Deadlines

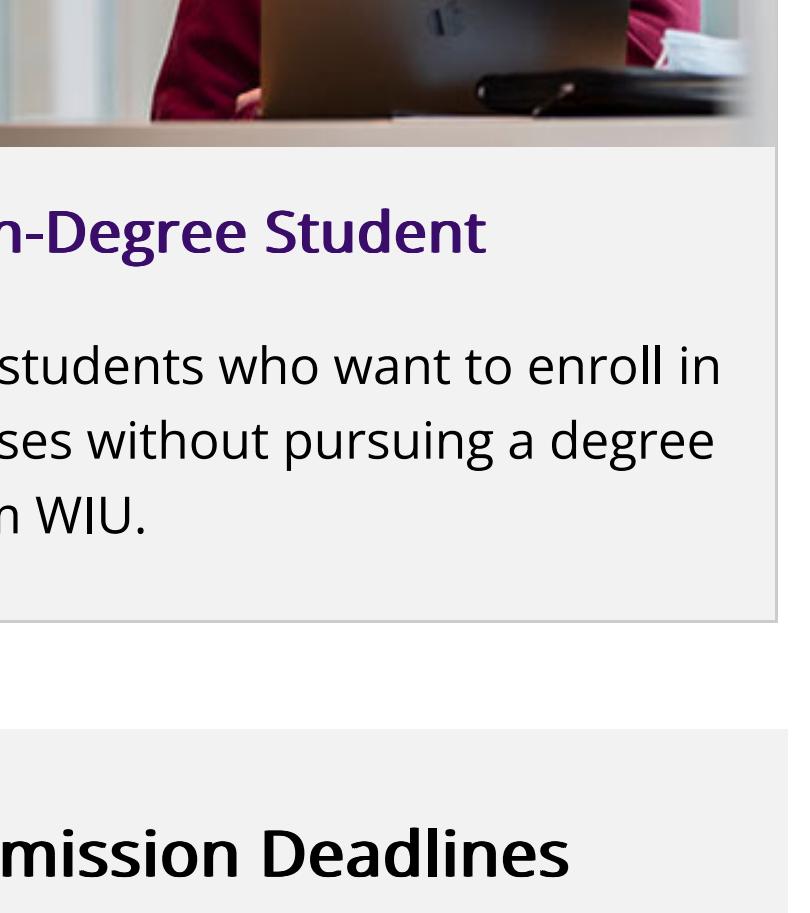

We accept undergraduate applications on a rolling basis throughout the year, meaning you can apply to Western Illinois University when you're ready.

Below are the recommended deadlines based on which semester you plan to start classes.

Applicant Type	Fall Deadline	Spring Deadline
Freshman	August 1	November 1
Transfer	August 1	December 1
International	April 1	October 1
Graduate	Program Specific	Program Specific

Returning WIU student

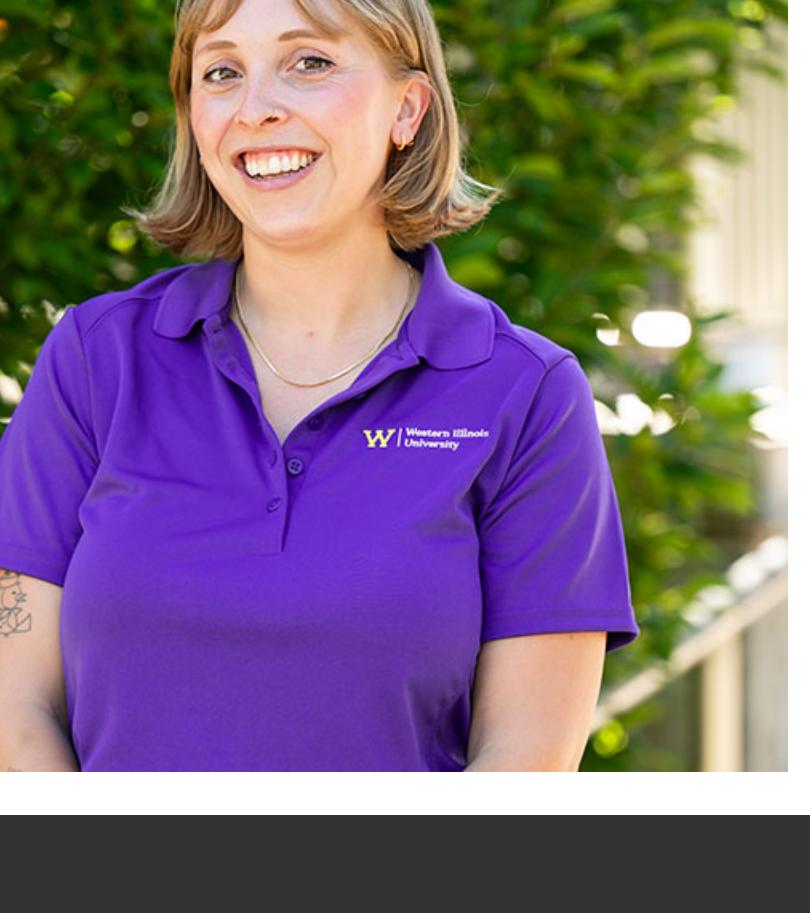

For students who previously attended WIU in a traditional major/program.

High School Dual Enrollment

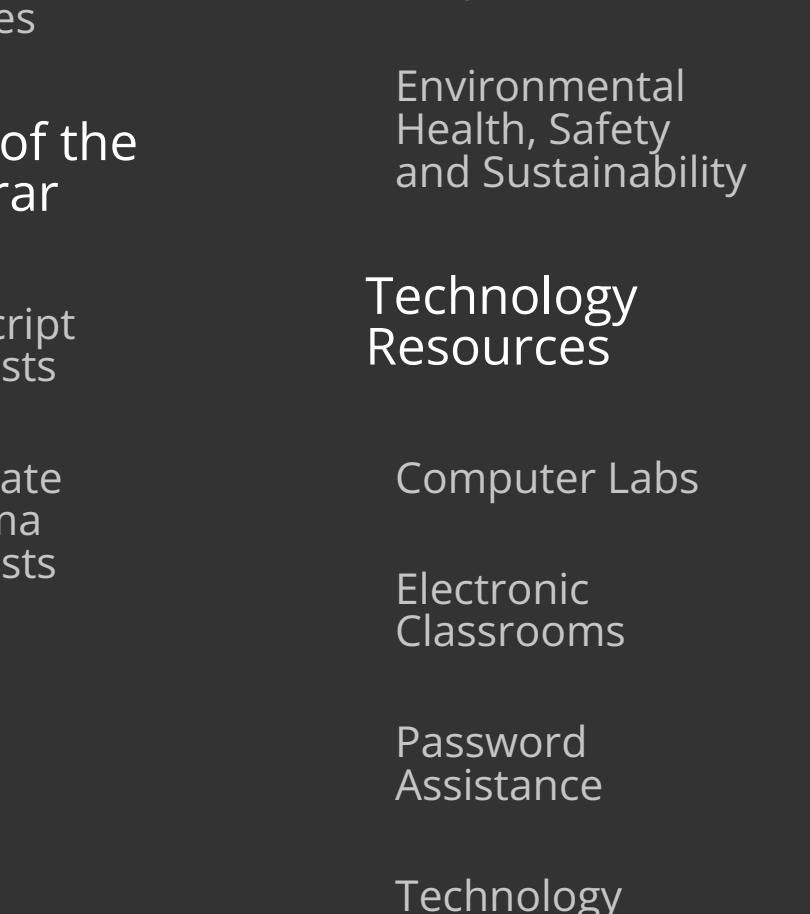

For high school students taking WIU courses alongside high school classes.

Bachelor of General Studies

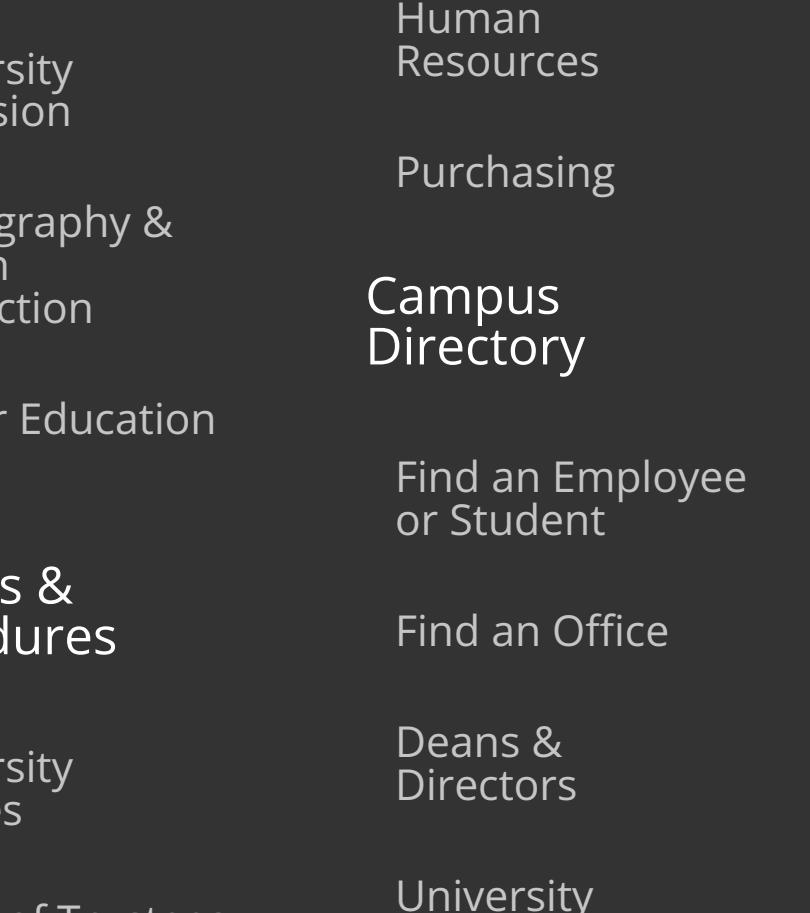

For students seeking a flexible, non-majored Bachelor of Arts degree. To be eligible, you must have graduated high school at least five years ago or have earned a minimum of 24 hours of college transfer credit.

Visiting/Guest Student

For current students at another institution taking one semester of WIU classes.

Non-Degree Student

For students who want to enroll in classes without pursuing a degree from WIU.

Admission Deadlines

We accept undergraduate applications on a rolling basis throughout the year, meaning you can apply to Western Illinois University when you're ready.

Below are the recommended deadlines based on which semester you plan to start classes.

Applicant Type	Fall Deadline	Spring Deadline
Freshman	August 1	November 1
Transfer	August 1	December 1
International	April 1	October 1
Graduate	Program Specific	Program Specific

Returning WIU student

For students who previously attended WIU in a traditional major/program.

High School Dual Enrollment

For high school students taking WIU courses alongside high school classes.

Bachelor of General Studies

For students seeking a flexible, non-majored Bachelor of Arts degree. To be eligible, you must have graduated high school at least five years ago or have earned a minimum of 24 hours of college transfer credit.

Visiting/Guest Student

For current students at another institution taking one semester of WIU classes.

Non-Degree Student

For students who want to enroll in classes without pursuing a degree from WIU.

Admission Deadlines

We accept undergraduate applications on a rolling basis throughout the year, meaning you can apply to Western Illinois University when you're ready.

Below are the recommended deadlines based on which semester you plan to start classes.

Applicant Type	Fall Deadline	Spring Deadline
Freshman	August 1	November 1
Transfer	August 1	December 1
International	April 1	October 1
Graduate	Program Specific	Program Specific

Returning WIU student

For students who previously attended WIU in a traditional major/program.

High School Dual Enrollment

For high school students taking WIU courses alongside high school classes.

Bachelor of General Studies

For students seeking a flexible, non-majored Bachelor of Arts degree. To be eligible, you must have graduated high school at least five years ago or have earned a minimum of 24 hours of college transfer credit.

Visiting/Guest Student

For current students at another institution taking one semester of WIU classes.

Non-Degree Student</p